PRESIDENT'S CORNER:

Fine program last month. Those shots of flying the way it used to be bring back a lot of memories. 'Course you young fellows can only imagine what flying in an open cockpit at 8,000 ft. is like--but let me tell you-it's cold-even in summer (in Buffalo, New York that is). And I for one marvel at the ease the pro's build with Hot Stuff. Sometimes I spend more time getting that little tube open again than they take building. But I guess that's just me because we have guys in the club-Owen Morris for one-who performs miracles with Hot Stuff and baking powder.

Craig York had a fine idea of offering to conduct training classes for people who would like to learn building short-cuts and tips from the pro's, and Craig is a good one. I plan to avail myself of this opportunity since I'm tired of cutting 3 pieces of balsa to get one to fit!

Weather really hasn't been co-operating lately, but as this goes to press there seems to be a let up in the cold which has blanketed the nation. Still looking for some slick building tips to put in this paper.

You should find the Flying Site Rules in this edition.

The winner of the climb and glide contest was Mark white with a score of 236 points out of a possible 240. Second place went to Donovan Knighton (228 points) and third went to Robby Owen (224 points).

The spot landing drawing was won by Bob Liechty with several people getting their name in the hat three times (the maximum).

I want to thank all those people that showed up to fly or help run the contest, and apologize to anyone who was dissatisfied with the contest. If there is any interest in another contest please contact Steve Rothstein at home or at the meeting. My home number is 488-5674.
